Dockside Function Centre

DEVELOPMENT AND CONSTRUCTION

Brisbane, Australia

With graceful rolled trusses reflecting waves gently lapping at the shore of the Brisbane River only metres away, the new PVC membrane structure for Dockside Function Centre has breathed new life into an existing premises.

A tight time frame and stringent design constraints made for challenges in project management, steel detailing and membrane patterning.

Utilising the ability of membrane to span large distances, the new structure provides an uncluttered usable space for the function centre's many guests and events. Internal gutting and perimeter rolling blind systems also provide for an all-weather function centre to protect against the elements.
